Student Council Advisor Responsibilities

IASC State Conference
February 20-22, 2020

We wish to have the best possible experience for everyone attending the 2020 IASC State Conference. Please know that IASC, IASSP and IASA are not responsible for your student delegation and we rely on your assistance for the following:

- Advisors/chaperones are responsible for the supervision of delegate conduct. This supervision includes sleeping rooms, hallways of the hotel, and delegate conference attire. Advisors/chaperones should monitor the behavior of their students at all times. The following behavior should not be allowed: talking during presentations, cell phones on, interfering with delegate/staff members’ ability to participate, inappropriate attire, and creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment. Advisors witnessing inappropriate behavior, even in students from other delegations, should speak to the student(s) involved.

- We recommend that your delegation consist of one advisor/chaperone per every ten student delegates. We also suggest that a building administrator accompany the delegation.

- Advisors/chaperones are solely responsible for hotel check-in and checkout. The hotel can provide sleeping room billing information the night before departure to facilitate checkout. Advisors must also complete the on-site conference registration process for their groups.

- Advisors/chaperones must review the IASC Conference Student-Participant Commitment responsibilities with their student delegates to clearly define expected behavior.

- Advisors/chaperones must attend all the general group meetings, activities, and events to supervise student delegates, making certain their students are on time and attending all sessions. Advisors/chaperones are to sit with their respective delegation during general sessions.

- Sleeping rooms should be inspected upon checkout to make sure that they have sustained no damage. Any damage incurred is the responsibility of the advisor, delegate, or school.

- Advisors/chaperones are asked to monitor for at least a 30-minute shift during the student dance on Friday evening.

- The use of swimming pools, spas, whirlpools, adjacent pool areas and fitness rooms within the hotels are not a part of the conference program. Any use thereof is at the personal risk of students, advisors and/or chaperones. IASC, IASSP and IASA assume no liability for accidents or injuries that may occur in or around pool and fitness facilities.
